

Macy Morse on Protesting the War Machine: Then and Now

Thursday, March 17, 7:00 PM

At the Portsmouth Public Library, 175 Parrot Ave, Portsmouth NH

Macy Morse, now 90 years old, discusses her political and moral development through non-violent action and its consequences – including waiting in jail for hearings and trials.

She has protested the Vietnam War, Seabrook nuclear power plant, AVCO missile production, and the Iraq and Afghan Wars.

See video from Morse's AVCO trial including testimony by Howard Zinn.

Free and open to the public

*We especially encourage teens and young adults to attend***

Sponsored by Women for Peace, Seacoast Peace Response,
NH Peace Action & UNH Peace & Justice League

For more info: 603-868-5895, amyla44@juno.com or seacoastpeaceresponse.org

A celebration of Women's History Month and Nonviolent Action

